Term 2 Week 10

Thursday 5 July 2018

From the Principal

Dear Parents

Teaching and Learning

Congratulations to our students on their learning progress this term. Some of our students have made significant gains in their learning, however all of our students need to continue to focus on their learning goal for the second half of the year. This is something that needs to be discussed with their parents on a regular basis to ensure that this is a focus throughout the next 6 months of the year.

Congratulations to our teachers and staff for their hard work and support this term.

Our staff have been involved in an action research project throughout this term and have looked at how to improve the student learning in the areas of comprehension and vocabulary as well as multiplicative thinking. Our teaching programs have been improved as a result of this professional learning.

Parent/Teacher/Student conferences and Volunteer Handbook surveys

Thank you to the families who continually give us feedback on the procedures that we have in the school. The majority of parents responded with a positive "yes" for the school to continue with our Parent/Teacher/Student conference in the same format for 2019.

Thank you also for responding to our draft Volunteer Handbook.

Reflection

"It takes real courage to be a chicken." First impressions made by this statement from a nine year old, might be that this was a misstatement. However, when you receive the "official" explanation you may be impressed. What I mean is that if someone is trying to get you to do something that you don't think is right or it's really dangerous, and they're saying you're a chicken if you don't, then it takes real courage to be a chicken. Right? Right. Courage means doing the right thing when it's hard, even if it means being called a chicken.

Our children's moral growth is an ongoing process and they rely on us to be there to nurture, influence, be a model and sometimes directly teach beliefs and habits that will help them demonstrate moral courage, whenever it might be needed. Our children need more than simply to have their head stuffed with rules and regulations; they need to be engaged in moral conversations that arise from, and are relevant to, what is happening in their lives.

We parents have the responsibility to show how our children should act, to offer responses to situations that give meaning and purpose to their lives and that are part of their growing and becoming. It is parents, relatives and teachers who give our children their first glimpses of courage, honesty, generosity, fairness and respect and help set the direction of moral growth.

If we have clearly-identified moral convictions, then, our children are more likely to adopt these beliefs as their own. By watching our choices and hearing our casual comments, our children quickly learn about our moral standards. Our children need to see us stand up for our beliefs if an important value is under threat; they need to see moral courage in action. "Life shrinks or expands in proportion to one's courage." Anias Nin

If we wish for our children to grow to become morally responsible and self disciplined, we need to offer our children more than appearances, we need to be strong in our core, ethical values. Children can learn what moral courage is through stories, games while playing, discussions but they can learn to have it through our example, our praise of their example or their attempts at making correct choices. Children will repeat actions that get them attention from their parents. This means that we need to be more conscious of catching our children doing something right than doing something wrong.

Our children will grow in self-assuredness by being true to their inner feelings when they show strength and courage not to follow the crowd, when the crowd is heading off in the wrong direction. They need to know that even their parents' hearts beat faster and are touched by fear on occasion. Likewise, they need to know that a habit of making good choices will soon replace fear with calm and a feeling of true pride and self-belief.

Aristotle, way back in 350 BC, believed that humans were born to become virtuous, mature adults, to be pillars of virtue for those younger and less developed than they were. We live in a time when teaching our children to be virtuous is especially challenging. All the more reason for us, the people who love them most, to influence our children in positive ways, to give them the moral skills they will need to be successful adults.

"God, my Father in heaven, give me discernment in my everyday proceedings, so that when the big issues come along I will be prepared to do what is right. Through the Gifts of the Holy Spirit may I be strong in moral courage; may this strength be in my children. Amen"

Wishing you every blessing for a safe and happy holiday.

Congratulations to the children and families who participated in the Sacrament of Confirmation program.

Grandparents' Day Thursday 26 July 2018

Saints Joachim and Anne were greatly honoured by God who gave them a daughter conceived without sin who was to become known as the Mother of God. It would seem that they performed their parenting responsibilities with great grace. Their feast day on 26 July is a day to honour them and all grandparents for their contribution to our lives.

At St Michael's we will celebrate Grandparents' Day on Thursday 26 July. Grandparents' Day is a day when the school community get together to honour our Grandparents.

To include our children in the Morning Tea for their grandparents, we would like to ask the school community for their assistance in providing a plate of food. Our P&F Committee and volunteers will coordinate the morning tea and further details are contained in this newsletter. We appreciate the support of our P&F Committee and volunteers. Staff Development Day

Term 3 Week 1—Friday 27 July is a Religious Education professional learning day for the staff and the school will be closed.

There is no supervision for children on this day. Please organise alternative care arrangements on this day.

School reports

On Friday 29 June school reports were issued for the first half of the year.

Once you have looked through your child's report, please talk to them about their learning goal for the second half of the year.

Please note that the A to E grading is a legislative requirement of the Government, not something St Michael's have implemented on their own.

Please focus on what your child has learnt and the next step in their learning. Every parent wants the best for their child however it is important that we recognise that children develop at different rates. Our children have to feel valued for their effort and then their achievement.

Please note that the A, B, C, D, E grading system does not imply the traditional grades that we may have experienced at school. You may like to equate the grading to gaining a driving licence.

E means that you're on your L's. You have an elementary understanding of the road rules and driving. You're still learning and need to have the instructor, Teacher present in order to complete work.

D means that you have your P's. You're no longer a learner. You have a basic knowledge of the road rules and driving. You can drive unassisted but you're still gaining experience. You can't drive to the speeds that a 'black licenced' driver can yet.

C means that you have obtained your 'black-licence'. You know all the rules and can drive wherever you like. You've got a sound knowledge of all the road rules and how to drive successfully.

B means that you have your 'black-licence' and have completed a defensive driver's course. You have skills and a high knowledge that few other drivers have.

A means that you have your 'black-licence' and have completed an Advanced driver course. You have excellent skills and knowledge that very few other drivers have.

Calls to and from teachers

Please note that teachers cannot take phone calls in class time or during their rostered duty times.

Teachers try to return phone calls as quickly as possible and will return your call at their first available opportunity.

Thank you for your understanding.

1-2-3 Magic and Emotion Coaching Program

We are planning on running the 1-2-3 Magic and Emotion Coaching program at the school in Term 3. The course will be run by presenters from the Catholic Education Office Diocese of Parramatta.

The 1-2-3 Magic and Emotion Coaching program aims to teach parents how to deal with their children's difficult behaviour by using an easy-to-learn and easy-to-use signalling system to manage children's difficult behaviour. The signalling system requires the parent to use less talk and less emotion, which in turn encourages the development of children's ability to manage their emotional reactions to parental boundaries (or emotional competency).

The 1-2-3 Magic and Emotion Coaching program will run for three weeks as follows:

Wednesday 12 September,
Wednesday 19 September,
Wednesday 26 September

We are seeking expressions of interest from our parents / guardians as to the time the program will take place on these dates and if you are interested in participating in the program.

If you would like to participate in this program, please your time preference on the attached slip and return to us by Friday 6 July so that we can organise a time for the program to run on the dates above or you can fill it in on our skoolbag app link.

From the responses received by Friday 6 July we will determine the time that is suitable for the majority of our families. Once the times are finalised we will advertise the dates and time in our newsletter.

1-2-3 Magic and Emotion Coaching Program

I would be interested in attending the 1-2-3 Magic and Emotion Coaching Program to be run at St Michael's Primary on Wednesday 12 September, Wednesday 19 September and Wednesday 26 September.

I would be available to attend:

☐ 9.00-11.00 am and / or ☐ 6.00-8.00 pm

Please return to the school office by Friday 6 July 2018

Students from 6 Blue critiquing the play, 'Rainbow Vomit' at the Riverside Theatre:

On the 27th of June 2018 Year 6 went on an excursion to the Riverside Theatre to watch a play called 'Rainbow Vomit'.

This is what I thought about it.

The Purpose: The purpose of this play is to encourage children 6 years and over to get outside more often.

My Opinion: As an eleven-year old I would not recommend this play to kids 8 years and over since the message was not very clear. I liked it at the end when there were big beach balls passed around. I found it a bit gross when they spat ping pong balls out of their mouth.

Rating Out Of 5: 4 out of 5

What is it about? It is about the impact of technology addiction and how it impacts on our brains as children.

How the Play Was Staged: When we first walked in all the characters were sitting on clear yoga balls. Towards the end rainbow ribbons were released from the ceiling, along with a swing. There were 6 people on stage. We were given firework glasses so when the performers shone lights at us everything would go rainbow.

The Definition: 'Rainbow Vomit' is a modern contemporary dance show targeted at young audiences. It is a world of fantasy, dream, illusion and play. Emily

On the 27th June, Year 6 went on an excursion to the Riverside Theatre, to watch a play called 'Rainbow Vomit'

My definition of 'Rainbow Vomit' is, a huge burst of colour and light ... with a lot of dancing. It was a play targeted at younger viewers

I believe the purpose of the show 'Rainbow Vomit' was to teach kids about not using too much technology, while also being a really entertaining play for the younger kids. It is also an encouragement to use your imagination, showing us how, using your imagination is amazing and can be way more fun than using technology.

In my opinion, the play 'Rainbow Vomit' was about the effects of using too much technology and how our world is being changed by the next generation. Instead of going outside, we are on our technology.

The staff provided some holographic glasses which refracted light into colour. They also had large bouncing balls. The actors also spat ping pong balls at us which was weird, and finally they had heaps of different costumes for the actors.

I rate it 3½ stars out of 5, because, it was a good play, but I had trouble understanding the purpose. Certain parts also were very weird, e.g. When the actors spat ping pong balls at the audience. ★ ★ ★ Aidan

Definition: It's a world of dream, fantasy, illusion in a play.

The purpose of this play is to inform young people about the impact of technology in an entertaining way.

What it's about: It's about the impact of technology and the colourful world of fantasy and illusion.

How the play was staged: It was staged with rainbow ribbon on the sides of the stage and different objects being used to assist the dance.

My opinion and rating: I thought this show was very interesting and entertaining to watch. I would rate it 4 out of 5 because sometimes things didn't make sense. Amy

'Rainbow Vomit' is a modern dance show targeting young audiences. It is a world of dreams, illusion, fantasy and imagination.

Its purpose is to encourage young children to spend more time outside playing games instead of spending all their time on technology. It especially encourages more use of imagination and creativity.

It's about a group of people who got addicted to technology and their minds were controlled with their imagination stolen. The first part was shown in black and white for no creativity then when there were rainbow colours it represents imagination.

The play was staged with lots of sound effects that helps us picture everything and they especially used colours to represent emotions and settings. There were special holographic glasses and rainbow colours. It represented magic and our dreams.

I really liked this unique and colourful play and I would recommend this to people in high school instead of Primary School. I would rate it a 4 out of 5 stars because some parts are hard to understand but the rest is creative and amazing.

Katherine

My definition: My definition of this play 'Rainbow Vomit' was a way of telling children that we have too much technology and that we have to go outside more often otherwise our eyes will get damaged

The purpose: The purpose of this play was for people to be more social and to get us off technology.

What the play was about: This play is about engaging with too much technology and that we should enjoy everything around us.

The play was staged with darkness at the start and it got brighter and as the play went on. It became really colourful like a rainbow.

My rating: My rating is in the middle of good and bad because the actors didn't speak and they were spitting ping pong balls at us. They were also very inappropriate, but at the same time it was cool that they did a light effect that didn't hurt our eyes. But it didn't really make sense. Rainbow vomit was a great experience. Charlize

As an 11 year old I sort of enjoyed the play. I saw it as a funny, weird and creative play. It made me and my peers laugh. It is targeting a young audience and it tells them how much technology has an impact on them and how they should go outside more and be creative. The day we saw it was on the 27 of June at the Riverside Theatre. This play was called 'Rainbow Vomit'.

My opinion and rating: I thought this play was very interesting and weird but I enjoyed it. I would rate this play a 3 out of 5 because in the play there were things that were not right and did not make sense to what the play was about.

Purpose: I think the purpose of this play is to show young children how much technology has an impact on them. Also, they should go outside and be more creative. John

Father's Day

BBQ Breakfast Friday 31st August 2018

Helpers Needed

Yes, it's coming soon! This event has become a well attended and special morning that coincides with "Jersey Day". Last year we served 600 bacon and eggs sandwiches. With so many attending, we need helpers. We are seeking commitments now from helpers. We need quite a few actually in order to run this event, otherwise sadly, we cannot go ahead with the breakfast. Thank you for your support.

Helping at the BBQ breakfast is hectic and fun. We have the below shifts for your consideration.
Select the times where you are able to assist & return to the office. A P&F member will be in touch closer to the time.

☐ 6.30am -7.30am Set Up

☐ 7.30am -8.45am Cooking & Service

☐ 8.45am -9.30am Clean Up
